HI I we real Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Before Judge Edmonds and Aldermen Winship and Dickerson.

March 17—This Court opened the March Term this day, when Judge Edmonds made his first appearance upon the Bench. The Court has undergone a thorough repair, and has been reconstructed. The Reporters have been well accommodated, and are located in the immediate vicinity of the Bench, where formerly was fixed the Cierk's deak, which has been removed to the left of the Bench. There was a large crowd in attendance. It was expected by the members of the Bar, that Judge Edmonds would make an opening address; but immediately on taking his seat, he proceeded promptly to business.

The Grand Jury were then called, and those who did not answer were fined $25 each. The Grand Jury were then discharged until Monday next—when the Clerk proceeded to swear the petit jury; several were excused from serving on showing proper cause. A poor cartman was amongst the number, who pleaded his business engagements in excuse, and stated he had no other means of support for his family, who would be injured if he was compelled to serve. This is another instance among the numerous abuses that exist in the jury system in this city, which have been so repeatedly pointed out, and loudly call for the introduction of the pay system. After some routine business was disposed of.

The Coura said—The gentlemen of the Bar who cannot find chairs, will bring them themselves, as the Common Council have given us but a very small supply; so gentlemen, you will have the goodness to supply your own chairs. (This ennouncement caused some laughter among the wags in Court.)

M. C. Parkasson, D. A., appeared on the part of the prosecution in the case of Andrew Klem, who stands indicted for the murder of the unfortunate woman in the 9th ward, by burning her up, and inflicting a wound on her person, in December last.

The Courar in the interim took occasion to announce, for the information of the bar, that it was its inlention to proceed and dispose of the criminal calendar before taking up civil cases. Man the court.

A more miserable looking object scarcely ever appeared before a court. His aspect is sullen and repulsive, with a deep scowl perpetually playing about the brow, he betrays all the appearance of a lunatic. He was badly dressed, and is of the lowest class of laborers.

The Court questioned him, and asked if he had counsel employed, to which he replied—"Oh, yes; no, I don't want any."

Mr. Sheffer, on part of the prisoner, stated it was the intention on part of the defence to plead insanity; and they, therefore, would spply for a commission de lumstice inquirendo

Court—The better way would be to determine this through medical testimony before the jury.

Mr Paressor opposed the mode of testing the question, in relation to the prisoner stalleged) insanity in the manner suggested by Mr. Shepherd, when,

Mr. Benndur, on the part of prisoner, cited the statute, which debars the right of the public prosecutor to place a party on trial who was a lunatic. They contended that the prisoner here was one, and they were bound to determine on this question first, before they put him upon his triel. trist.

The further hearing of the case was set down for this forenoon, when the trial it is expected will proceed. The court adjourned ever, and the prisoner was withdrawn in subtone the court and the prisoner was withdrawn in court of the court and the prisoner was withdrawn in court of the court of t

Kingston, March 14, 1845.

Manor Difficulties in Uleter.—I should have written to you before, as I promised, and given you some account of our difficulties, had I not waited in hopes that all would probably be settled soon. As to what has eccurred all accounts differ according to the hopes, interests or feats of the persens giving them. As I before stated, the Sheriff went out with his posse, and after reaching the residence of H. P. Shulte, in Wood stock, about 3 P. M., which is near where the persons he wished to arrest reside, the men there rested, and 20 of the most resolute were selected from the Kingston posse to proceed at 12 at night to secure the person of one Bishop, alias Black Hawk, and two or three others known to be concerned in resisting the Deputy Sheriff, Schoonmaker, in discharge of his duty, disguised and armed, as mentioned in my last. This party was under command of Deputy sheriff Schoonmaker, with a proper person for a guide, but were detsined until 2 o'clock, and then set out in Indian file. The night was very severe in the mountains, the hair and clothing of the men were covered with frost, and the ground with snow to the depth of ten inches, and being soft under, made the walking almost impassable to men armed as they were. Still they pressed on with determination, and taking a circuitous route that they might not be discovered, and wading through swamps and morssees, reached Bishop's house, after a walk of seven miles, about day light. They could find no men, and the women appeared to have expected a visit, and said the anti-rorters had been waiting for them some time, &c. Leaving the house, they then discovered a box containing "Indian" dresses, and also the identical dress worn by "Black Hawk" at the time the deputy was stopped by him. The men then present on the track, and a portion of them, five in number, having become separated from the main bedy by a hill, were freed upon by the party they were in pursuit of, at sh

OGLETHORPE COURSE—FIRST DAY'S RACE, March.
12.—The first day's race over the Oglethorne.
Course came off—mile heats. The Trustee flily had the track, Martha next, and Victor outside. Trustee flily yielded the track after the first quarter round, and the contest became animated between Victor and Martha, (M. McAlpin's filly.) On the back stretch they kept close together and opened on the last and straight stretch, lip and lip, the Trustee filly some distance behind. Victor passed the judge's stand a half length ahead of Martha, the Trustee filly behind the distance pole. Time in .68s.

For the second heat Victor and Martha came up to thine in good order. Martha brushed off in fine style and took the lead until the beginning of the back stretch, when Victor "greased his heels," came up and passed and kept the lead to the end of the race, coming out about fivened the lead to the end of the race, coming out about fivened the lead to the end of the race, and she sustained herse for very creditably. The day was wet and rainy, and the Course suffered somewhat in consequence.

FOOT-RACE OVER THE METABLE COURSE, NEW ORLEANS.—This suffair is to come off on or about the 23d inetit appears that there are nine entries made for the purse-one from pretty much every part of the known world. It is expected that Gildersleeve will be first favorite in the betting, as he has performed in public over ten miles within the hour. Elwoth, the Yankee, will have his backers, as his powers of endurance have been twice tested and proved to be unyielding by pedestrian feats absolutely unparalleled; still, as a matter of choice—considering the effects of the climate and "change of water"—we should think some of the acclimated "field hands" stand a fair chance of welking, or rather running off with the money.

It appeared from the evidence that the accident was unavoidable, and without any malice on the part of Christy.

Two years ago there were five paupers receiving re tief in the Litchfield Union, all of whom had served the office of sheriff. One of them was ruined by law, anothe-by extravagence, and two by drunkenness; the fifth wa-que who "never could get forward."

CHEROKEE NEWS .- The trial of the two Chero saw the convicted man, moving toward the sequited one "wiping his gun." What causes prompted to the deed are wholly unknown. The same paper says:—"The westher continues bright and balmy. The prairie tinged with green, the blooming peach tree, the budding elm, and the delicate violet, make one fancy himself transport ed into the midst of April, rather than to be lingering in the usually cold month of February. I he whole winter has been of oft remarked middeess and of especial mercy to all classes of our citizens, particularly to those who are needy and destitute." A school has been opened at the Park Hill mission among the Cherokees, by Mr. Dwight Hitchcock, a recent graduate of Amherst College. The terms are seventy-five cents permonth. We learn from a gentleman recently from Little Rock, that there are eight or nine steam-boats at, and below, the five islands, pwaiting a rise, to ascend the Arkansas.

THE WEATHER.—In Kingston, Canada, for the Inst week or ten days the weather has been most delightfui.—Spring has permanently set in, and the busy hus of preparation resounds in all directions in the vicinity of the whatves. From present appearances the navingution will be open much earlier than usual. The South chaunel is entirely clear of ice, and between town and Wolfe Island crossing on foot has been discontinued. A week of the present mild weather will probably clear out the last remnant of Jack Frost.

STEAMBOAT DISASTERS —It appears from a report recently made by the Committee on Naval Affairs to the House of Representatives, that from the year 1830 to 1840, eighty vessels were lost by explesions of steam boilers, and that seven hundred and eighty persons were killed and two hundred and ninety-six wounded by these disasters. During the same period of time—ten years—tweaty-five vessels were destroyed by fire, and two hundred and fifty-five lives lost

Storm at Maysville.—The Maysville Eagle of Friday, 14th inst., says a very severe storm passed over that city and neighborhood on Tuesday night doing much damage. The rain fell in torrents, accompanied with hail. The high wind that prevailed during the night, besides slowing down thousands of panels of fencing for the farmers around us, tore into pieces a frame and a leg building in East Maysville. It also biew out one end of the large brick building of Mr. Harry Nicholson, which crushed, in its fell, a frame immediately adjoining

OHIO.—Oran Foliett has been elected President, and Samuel Forrer and Jacob Blickensderter, Jr., acting members of the Board of Public Works. In the House of Representatives, on the 12th instant, a resolution was adopted "in reference to the attempts now making to induce the Legislature of New York to levy greater tolks on goods belonging to citizens of the Western States, passing through the canals of that State between Oswego and Albany, than are charged upon goods belonging to citizens of said State."

On Monday the denizens of our quiet city were somewhat surprised by an old fashioned eastern snow storm. Our streets were becoming very passable, but this fall of snow and consequent thaw will again occasionally remind us of your "Harper's Ferries" in New York, and also of some of the muddy difficulties you have to encounter.

Our new native Mayor has entered upon the duties of his office, and will doubtless administer our city government to the satisfaction of all. In the distribution of the city spoils, Mr. Davis will bear in mind that he is not indebted so much to the innate strength of his own party for ultimate success, as he was to the withdrawal of the democratic candidate. However generally sectarianism may have entered into the contest, the victory at any rate would not have been achieved so soon, but for the good will of the democrats.

We had a glorious ball on the 5th, within the walls of cid Faneuil Hall, which was crowded to excess, and the bright array of fashion and beauty displayed on the occasion has rarely been equalled, never surpassed, in Boston. An annexation ball is annousced to take place on Friday evening next, which might equal that on the 5th, were any one else concerned in its management, save old "white cravat," Mr. A. L., the petty tool of a miserable dique here, and too insignificant to succeed in any thing he undertakes.

An eulogy on the death of Hon. Benj. Russell, was delivered at the Melodeon on Monday evening by Mr. Baylies. Instead of confining his remarks at all to the subject, Mr. B. reviewed, in a prosaic style, events both anterior and during the revolution, and managed to make his lecture so insipid and tedious, that one half of his audience left betore he had concluded.

Theatricals remain in statu quo here. An opposition to the National is much desired. We have an abundance of unemployed talent in Boston, and it only requires a little more enterprise to render it all effective. The rotation of offices under our national administration has not yet commenced. Roberts, who has been spending so much of his time fruitlessly at Washington, dancing attendance on the powers that "were" and "be," has returned, it is said, quite chop-fallen. Had he remained here and attended to the duties of the station to which Mr. Tyler appointed him, his nomination would doubtless have been acted favorably upon e

INTERESTING FROM BRAZIL—A circular has been received, dated Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 17, from which we glean the following intelligence:—The political position of the country, we are happy to state, holds out a very favorable aspect. Some rebellious disturbances in the Northern Provinces have been quelled in their outbreak by the very energetic steps of the government. In Rio Grande, the only province where civil war still continues, the Imperial troops have gained successive and decided advantages over the rebels, who, in consequence, have opened negotiations for peace, and we have well founded reason to believe, that ere long tranquility will be restored to the Empire; a state of things which sannot tail to produce a beneficial influence on commerce. At the River Plate the war between the Oriental and Argentine Republics is still carried on; Montevideo continues to be besieged by Oribe and blockaded by the Buenos Ayrean squadron, and according to the last dates to the 21st ult., there are no prospects of a speedy termination of this unfortunate conflict. Some misunderstanding caused/the Brazilian Minister to request his passports; he retired on board a versel of war awaiting further instructions from home; but the general opinion is that there will be no interruption to the friendly intercouse existing between the two governments.

General Jackson's Birthday.—This day (15th of March) the venerable hero of the Hermitage enters on his 79th year. The President had a letter from him last night, fraught with more true elequence than any he ever before received. This argues that his health is not worse.—Globe, March 15.
